

The enernovum Group has been successfully active in the field of renewable energies for more than 12 years. In addition to operating our own solar parks, the company's activities focus on the development and construction of large-scale photovoltaic projects in Europe, where we have established a leading market position.

In our team, we do without an elbow mentality and instead achieve our goals through collegial cooperation.

The project development is coordinated from our headquarters in Cologne and in close cooperation with our colleagues in the respective countries on site, whereby the possibility for home office or remote work is also given.

To strengthen our team we are looking for a
